International Association of Sound and Audiovisual Archives (IASA)

49th Annual Conference

University of Ghana's Institute for African Studies

Accra, Ghana, 1–4 October 2018

Established in 1969 as a platform for international co-operation between archives that preserve recorded sound and audiovisual documents, IASA now has members from more than 70 countries, representing most major collections and archives, including national libraries, archives, and broadcasters holding musical recordings, historic, literary, folkloric and ethnological sound documents, theatre productions and oral history interviews, bioacoustics, environmental and medical sounds, linguistic and dialect recordings, as well as recordings for forensic purposes.

IASA is an accepted international leader in the field of sound and audiovisual archiving and the premiere organization in setting operating standards and work practices. It has also had a long commitment to the support of archives and collections in developing and emerging countries.

The IASA conference is an agenda setter for the ongoing debates in sound and audiovisual preservation. Our most recent conferences were 2015 at the Bibliothèque nationale de France in Paris, 2016 at the Library of Congress, Washington, DC, USA, and 2017 at the Ethnological Museum, Berlin, Germany.

The 2018 Conference, our 49th Annual Conference, is being hosted by and held at the University of Ghana's Institute for African Studies, Accra, Ghana, 1–4 October 2018 with the theme "Access and Accessibility: Archival Policies and Barriers in the Age of Global Information Exchange". The 2018 conference is an opportunity to show how new technologies, new systems, and joined efforts provide innovative services that link our audiovisual heritage with a wider audience, make possible new and diverse use cases, and affect more robust and resilient preservation efforts.

Sponsoring the IASA Conference provides opportunities for your company and it facilitates our initiatives in the world of sound and audiovisual archiving, maintaining education, training, and other standards and guidance activities that we provide. Finally, your generous sponsorship ensures that participation in our conference remains affordable in today's global economy.
